

Weather

Some people in Norway makes jokes about the facts that Stavanger can have all 4 seasons weather in one day. These jokes are a bit exaggerated but there is some truth to it. Stavanger weather is unpredictable and it can be the same temperature midwinter and midsummer. Stavanger is a coastal town and hence there is a costal climate which means mild winters and not very warm summers. It is recommended that everyone check out the weather forecast before coming here so that you can try to pack accordingly.